

Profile Jiri van den Kommer

Born in 1962 (in the Netherlands)

What's important to me:

- Diversity as a source for success, innovation and creativity
- Tolerance and respect
- Recognition and handling of prejudice and stereotypes
- Good order clarification as a basis for successful seminars and coaching
- To support people as they go their own way
- Practical relevance and sustainable change

Vocational and Professional Training

- Master of Science, Mathematics and Informatics, University of Amsterdam
- Certified Management Accountant (CMA), Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam
- Certificate Change Management, E&Y Management Consultants
- Coaching Training, 2Coach in Hamburg
- In-house advanced professional training (project management, process management, consulting skills, interviewing skills, business writing, account management and business development skills)

Professional Activities

- IT Designer and Programmer
- IT Planning
- Company Consultant (strategic utilization IT, IT system implementation, shared services, business process improvement & reengineering)
- Project and Change Manager
- Trainer & Consultant for intercultural competences
- Self-employed since 2011

Key Topics

- Training within the field of
 - Intercultural Competences
 - Intercultural Leadership
 - Executive Development
 - Project Management
 - Moderation and Presentation
 - Change Management
 - Virtual leadership and virtual work
 - Communication
 - Self and Time Management
- Coaching
- Workshop - Moderation

Industry Experience

- Industry
- Trade
- Automotive
- Medical / Pharmaceutical
- Information Technology
- Oil & Gas
- Banks
- Insurances
- Energy
- Telecommunications
- Public Services

Languages

German, English, Dutch

What do I convey with my work:

- Positive learning atmosphere
- Lightness and humor
- Dynamics and energy
- Lightbulb-Moments
- Encouragement to venture into new territories
- To make the world a little better